

Saturday 1st October 2022

It was a beautiful October Saturday, starting cool, but not cold, and warming through the day to 18 degrees. Mostly sunny but with some cloud, it was perfect walking weather. Carolyn and Pat enjoyed a varied 11 mile walk starting at the edge of Alice Holt Forest, walking through part of the forest on gravel paths, partly following the Shipwright's Way, then paths through the trees ultimately in the direction of Farnham Manor, passing fields and walking alongside the river. We then walked by Frensham Great Pond and on sandy tracks over part of Frensham Common. We passed Frensham Heights School, alongside Rowledge and crossed the A325 at Wrecclesham, stopping for a well earned coffee and cake at Farnham Pottery. We completed the walk following the railway for a short time then along a riverside path, then back to the start.
