

WALK REPORT FOR 27th May 2022

On Wednesday 27th May, six Oakley Ramblers met up at Greenham Common control tower car park to walk a nine-mile route that dropped down to the Kennet and Avon canal and went towards Thatcham before cutting through Chamber House farm to return to the old airfield. We then completed the circuit of the airfield, including the old cruise missile bunkers and the woodlands at the western end, before ending the walk at the control tower cafe. Before leave tea and cake was taken in the cafe followed by visiting the very interesting visitor centre. The weather was kind with some sunshine, the threatening clouds did not rain, and there was a reasonable walking temperature.
